
BECKER'S

ORTHOPEDIC, SPINE & PAIN MANAGEMENT

REVIEW

Business and Legal Issues for Orthopedics, Spine and Pain Management

Chicago—Becker's Orthopedic, Spine & Pain Management Review recently released the "125 Outstanding Knee Surgeons," which includes David F. Dalury, M.D. Members of the list were selected for their positions held at top orthopedic institutions, affiliation with professional organizations and contributions to the field of knee surgery.

The list was created as a result of extensive research and recommendations from around the country from some of the most well-respected knee surgeons in America. All surgeons included on the list were trained at top medical schools and often completed knee and sports medicine fellowships at world-renowned institutions. Many of them are also team physicians for professional athletic organizations and have produced nationally recognized research.

Physicians do not pay and cannot pay to be selected for this list.

A full-length edition of the list can be found here: 125 Outstanding Knee Surgeons

Becker's Orthopedic, Spine & Pain Management Review* is a Chicago-based publication focusing on orthopedic, spine and pain practice management. The primary contributors and audience for the publication is orthopedic and spine surgeons and industry experts.